Molly's" Fifth Easter Party Biggest, Best

Founders of Lemon Grove
over 2,500 of them, will have a big star party Wednesday, thanks
the generosity of local businessmen and a lot of hard work on the part of E. A. "Molly"

It will be the fifth annual Kiddies Easter Party and the Grove Theatre will be the center of operations.

Boxes of candy, toys, live rabbits,
candy Easter eggs and thousands of lollipops will be distributed to the kiddies. A baker's dozen of cartons will be screened on a production line basis starting at 9 a.m.

There will be a gigantic prize
drawing after the first show, then the theatre will be emptied and refilled as many times as necessary until every child has seen the program at least once and is laden with Easter goodies.

The entire program is free for the youngest. Spark plug behind the annual event is "Molly" Mou-llesseaux, operator of the Texaco station at Broadway and Massachusetts. It all started five years ago when some neighboring children admired some bunnies Molly had on display. He promised to give a bunny to the kids just before Easter by drawing lots. When 25 kiddies turned up for the event, the Kiddies Easter Party idea was born.

"I thought it would be a good idea to give the youngsters a better appreciation of the meaning of Easter," he said. "Most kids today
know the meaning of neither Easter nor Christmas. The kids seemed to like it so we've just expanded the idea year by year until it has grown so big that it has become a community project."

This year merchants will donate funds. Molly asked $1.50 per store but most contributed more. In addition, many gave merchandise
worth many times the contribution asked.

Last year 1,500 children took part in the party. This year, with many more businessmen taking part, the 2,500 attendance estimate does not seem out of line.

Just so your plans do not get crossed with little Willy's and Jane's you'd better jot down the date and time. It's Wednesday, April 9 at the Grove Theatre starting at 9 a.m.

Grove Man Aids El Cajon Carnival

El Cajon Jaycees Community
Carnival is attracting large crowds according to Jerry Roman, member from Lemon Grove. There are 11 rides, a midway and all types of games.

Proceeds from the event will go to buy a wooden lung for the hospital district.

Free tickets for various attractions for kiddies are being distributed from Roman's store, A-1 Appliance and Radio Shop on Broadway.

WATER SAVING PROJECT

NEW GREAT LAKE—Designed to halt the average annual loss of $3,000,000 acre feet of water through the Golden Gate, the salt water barrier shown above is proposed by the California Water Transit and Delivery Project, Inc., a nonprofit corporation. As the key to a series of San Francisco Bay causeways, the 100-foot wide project would extend from Redwood to Marin County creating in the Delta one of the great fresh water lakes of the nation and bringing untold benefits to agriculture, industry and municipal water consumers. The project, according to the sponsors, would serve national defense better than any proposed flood bridge and solve many of the transbay transportation problems. The proposal shown above was designed by Allen Associates, Inc., a group of outstanding engineers, commissioned by the sponsors to develop the causeway design as a public service. The sponsors look upon their proposal as the greatest engineering project ever offered the West.

Women Voters League Names Mrs. Davis

Mrs. Lawrence Spear of Lemon Grove passed her president's gavel to Mrs. Frank Davis, newly elected president, at the League of Women Voters' annual meeting held Saturday at the San Diego Hotel.
Other officers chosen at the meeting are Mrs. Brown Voorhees, first vice president; Mrs. S. P. Shelton, second vice president; Mrs. C. B.
Olmstead, secretary; Mrs. Philip Rudnick, treasurer; and Mrs.
Sydney Goldhammer, W. H. Paterson, Irving Alexander, Carl Swedelius, and Miss Ann Wamsley, directors. The nominating committee for next year will be composed of Mrs. Gilbert Curt, Marston Sargent, and Ian Thomson.
Principal speaker at the meeting was Mrs. Winston W. Couch, president of the California League of Women Voters, who discussed the work of the state organization and program-making in the League.

Mrs. Carl Swedelius, who will be the local League's delegate to the national convention in Cincinnati in April, spoke on the proposed national program.

Members voted to adopt as the League's project for next year a study of the local responsibility for the protection and treatment of dependent and delinquent children.
This will include a study of the types of foster homes, a continuing study of the treatment of children detained, and the treatment they receive by the police and at the courts, and a study of what the city is doing to prevent delinquency by recreational facilities and mental hygiene centers.

The League of Women Voters is a national, non-partisan organization whose object is to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government. The San Diego County membership of 200 is divided into nine units, which meet twice a month throughout the county.

Tour Of School Called Success

The governing board of the Lemon Grove School District invited a representative group of Lemon Grove people on a tour of the schools and to participate in a dinner after the tour on Tuesday. The affair was first of an annual series and those in attendance stated the project was a complete success.

Schools visited include Vista
La Mesa, San Miguel, Monterey
Heights Golden Ave., and Lemon Grove Intermediate. The school bus used to carry visitors was driven by Mrs. Myrtle Schmidt.

Approximately forty guests attended the tour and dinner, which was prepared and served by Mrs.
Ruth Pfister, district cafeteria manager, Mrs. Frieda Perkins, and Mrs. John Burgeon, cafeteria employees.

Byron L. Netzel, superintendent of schools, introduced Vroman J. Dorman, President of the board of trustees. Mr. Dorman presented a brief history of the district, showing a growth of the amount spent on purchases of school sites, additions and new schools.

Paul Reynolds, business manager of the district, explained how schools become eligible for federal aid.

Other school personnel present included Harry Griffen, board member; Mrs. Rita Russell, secretary; Mrs. Alma Hogan, bookkeeper; S. K. Solleder, director of education; Ben Schol, Bob Sutton, Evelyn Lauritzen, Art Thomas,
school principals; Mrs. J. M. Mulkey, kindergarten teacher, and Margaret Darnoch, public relations chairman.

Community Services For Good Friday

The Foothills Ministerial Association is sponsoring several special Good Friday Services in various neighborhoods Friday, April 11. Groups of Churches in each area are cooperative in this effort to encourage all the residents of the area to attend a Good Friday Service nearest their home.

LEMON GROVE WEEKLY WEATHER REVIEW

BY BOREAS

Most daily newspapers carry forecasts of the weather to come
as supplied by the Weather Bureau. The REVIEW, being a weekly paper, is unable to do this.
But we can give you a summary of what the weather for the preceding week has been, which is not only easier but much safer.
We hope it will help resolve some of the arguments about "how much rain we got last Thursday"
or "how warm it was last Wednesday." But even more we hope that it will serve as a firm basis
to back up your boasts of Lemon Grove's grand climate when you write to the folks "back home."

The figures quoted are obtained with reliable instruments located in Lemon Grove, and housed in an instrument shelter of the standard Weather Bureau type.

Temperature and Rainfall require no explanation. Most of us are familiar with the effects of humidity. It is expressed in percent, - when the humidity is 100,
then the air contains all the water vapor it can possibly hold and evaporation is reduced to zero.
That means that when we perspire,
the perspiration cannot evaporate and the body loses its principal means of cooling itself.
The result is that we are in extreme discomfort even though the temperature of the air may be only some seventy-five degrees or so. On the other hand when the humidity is extremely low, evaporation goes on at a lively pace
and perspiration evaporates so fast that we feel the cold much more than we should. The usual range of humidity in Lemon Grove runs from around eighty in the morning to fifty in the evening,
and most people are quite comfortable within this range. When the temperature reached 87 degrees last Thursday, the humidity was considerably less than thirty percent and no one could say that the heat was oppressive. By the way, that 87 is the highest recorded for 1952 so far.

Rainfall, measured by a gauge patterned after the Weather Bureau standard gauge, has been 1.95 inches for Lemon Grove
since July 1st of last year.

Inside Goodwin

There's a politician in your life
this year. No matter where you look there's a guy with his handshaking hand out asking for your support in his race for one of the many offices to be filled by good & honest men. You've got to admire the fellows who run for office. They are energetic, they're enthusiastic. Moreover, they're usually in on the fighting clothes
and go to bat with the opposition, if they get the least peg to hang a battle on.

We voters are fast on the draw, too. We're also fast to criticize our politicians, just like as if we had a paid seat at ringside.
If you have such a seat please show your stub to the usher before reading this boxcar.

Here is the comparative voting record which appeared in a recent issue of the Saturday Evening Post:

In Belgium, freed of Nazi total-itarianism, 90% of the eligible voters went to the polls;
In Italy, in a crucial election
which rebuffed Communism, 85%
voted;

In Britain, in an election which returned Churchill-82%;
In France, after 4 years of Nazi rule-75%;

In Japan, under its new democracy-70%;

In the United States, in the last Presidential election-only 51% of those eligible voted.

That column's best advice: Let some of the politician's enthusiasm brush on you enough to get you to the polls this election.

That's where I met Ginnie when she was five and I six."
Ginnie is the former Virginia
Sanchez of Spring Valley. A brunette beauty, she shyly admitted sending a Christmas card to Dan while he was going to school in Kansas City. This set up a chain of correspondence circumstances which culminated in an engagement and marriage 12 years later.

He denied the dozen years wait was his plan. He had little choice while attending 13 different schools
in various parts of the mid-west
until he gained his B.A. at Ottawa (Kans.) University and his B.D. at Colgate-Rochester Divinity School
in New York.

All has not been smooth sailing for the Apras. After five years of almost starvation preaching in Illinois he finally took up selling insurance to earn enough to buy food.

"I still get a small check from the insurance firm for automatic policy renewals," he grinned.
"It isn't much, but a few years back it meant our bread and butter." Even now we're operating a program tailored for an 800 member church although our membership is only about 400. The only way we squeak through at all is by the generosity of the church staff which spends long hours after their workday trying to keep up with the essential part of the job.

The couple reside at their cozy,
though small, apartment in the parsonage on Olive Street. They share their home with "Junior," a "full-blooded springer-spaniel-spitz," plus a few other good breeds," laughed Dan as his wife explained
Junior's lineage.

The Congregational Church has grown fast in the community during the past 4 years. Average attendance is more than 350.

"My sincere belief is in the religious theory that Christianity is a happy way of life," Reverend Apra said.

No one can doubt that the theory of this handsome, young-but-graying man has been responsible for his church's wide acceptance in the community.

Factions had been lining up for a spirited contest with Hall, service station owner, and Gerald Jackson, chiropractor, on one ticket and Paul Tilton and Tom Parsons on the other.

Discovery that Hall resided two residences outside the first district caused him to withdraw.
"The fire district runs another 3 to 400 yards beyond my residence on the other side of the road," Hall said. "As soon as I found out I was not in the district
I pulled out of the race."

John Blaine appliance and refrigeration representative who is campaign manager for the Hall-Jackson team has named Robert Brown, operator of Brown's refrigeration Service, as a write-in alternate.

In the meanwhile, Stanley
Blake, Lemon Grove businessman, is sponsoring a movement to elect Paul Tilton who operates a wedding firm, and Tom Parsons,
of Lemon Grove Hardware.
Tilton was appointed to the department at its inception as a call man and was later appointed to the commission replacing grocer Harry Monell who resigned
this year.

He has been involved in fire work since he became of age, he said. He has been on the local force for one year and served 7 years on a fire in the Valley.
Chan Mason, feed store operator,
is the remaining commissioner.

Hall is serving an appointment
replacing Rev. Morris Mulkey who also resigned earlier this year.

Mrs. Harry Martin Heads Beta Sigma Phi

Mrs. Harry Martin was elected president of Theta Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi at the regular meeting Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Robert Kingsolver.
Elected to serve with Mrs. Martin were the following: vice president, Mrs. Donald G. Beebe; recording secretary, Mrs. R. P. Wagle; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. H.
Carpenter; treasurer, Mrs. Bernard Le Blanc; city council representative, Mrs. Kingsolver, and extension officer, Mrs. E. E. Cain. Installation ceremonies will be conducted at the first meeting in May by Mrs. W. E. Beistline, retiring president.

The program for the evening,
"Pictures," was presented by Mr.
and Mrs. Wesley Kendrick, of the Fine Arts Store, San Diego. The guest speakers discussed the enjoyment of fine reproductions in the home, with special emphasis on effective framing.

A pledge ritual for new members will be conducted at the next meeting, April 9, in the home of Mrs. H. E. Emerson.

There are several innovations
in this issue of the REVIEW.
The scope of local coverage has been widened to give readers
eight pages of local news.
A television guide for weekend programs has been added.
More church and school news is being published.
The REVIEW would appreciate comments, good or critical, on the new paper.

AQUEDUCT BARREL CONTRACT SIGNED

J. L. Burkholder, general manager and chief engineer of the County Water Authority, signs the contract under which the Navy will build the aqueduct second barrel. Interested onlookers are, left to right, Rep. Clinton D. McKinnon, W. H. Jennings, the Authority's legal counsel, and Fred A. Heilbron, chairman of the agency which imports Colorado River water.

Another important chapter in the history of water development in this area was written with the signing of the contract between the County Water Authority and the Navy for construction of the aqueduct second barrel.

J. L. Burkholder, general manager and chief engineer of the Authority, affixed his signature to the document in the presence of Fred A. Heilbron and William H.
Jennings, president and legal counsel, respectively, of that agency,
and Rep. Clinton D. McKinnon,
who was in San Diego at the time.
The latter, with Senators W. F.
Knowland and Richard Nixon, added the Authority in the Washington, D. C. phase of negotiations and conferences leading up to the drafting of the second barrel contract.

The contract, which was overwhelmingly approved by voters in the Authority area in the special election Feb. 26, has been forwarded to the Navy Department.
With it went collateral agreements executed by the Authority's 10
member agencies. These pacts guarantee an adequate supply of water to Federal Government establishments in the area.

Burkholder reported considerable preliminary work already has been done on designs and specifications for the second barrel, on which construction is expected to start

C of C Is Host To Dave Bird

There are many things the County Board of Supervisors would do except they attempt to avoid putting an added burden of the taxpayer. David Bird, Supervisor told the LG Chamber of Com-

Members of the chamber reported on their continuing study of 4 major community problems;

1. Adequate sewers for the area near Imperial and Broadway;
2. Money for streets and roads;
3. Paint up-clean up campaign,

tions.

LANE'S OPEN NEW STORE IN ENCANTO

There's an addition in the Roy S. Lane family, but it's a business baby.

Lane, operator of the men's furnishing store bearing his name at 7765 Broadway in Encanto, is opening a new shop at 6405 Imperial Ave. in Encanto. The formal opening is scheduled for this week end.

The Lemon Grove shop has become very popular during the year since it was started. The new place will follow the same type of operation featured nationally known merchandise such as Arrow shirts, Interwoven socks, Stetson hats, Crosby Square shoes and Dickie work clothes.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, REVIEW:

After putting up with slippery mud and chug holes when it rains and dust when it is dry, the property owners are happy that money is being collected to asphalt Pacific Ave., west of New Jersey. It costs only 20 cents a front foot for each side of the road, which pays for material; the County furnishes the labor. Besides doing away with mud, chug holes and dust, asphaltizing increases the value of property and it is easier to get loans to build with.

We appreciate Mr. Hayhurst of New Jersey, giving his time collecting the money.

It is hoped that property owners on West St., Harris, Citrus and Bishop will follow this example and furnish the money to improve and asphalt their roads.

Signed
John D. Blaine, 7423 Pacific Ave.

GOAT MILK GROUP MEETS

The Southern California Goat Milk Association will hold a meeting Sunday April 6th at the Escondido Grammar School. Guest speaker is Robert Clayton, San Diego County Milk Inspector.

NEW TAX BURDEN HUGE

Since the outbreak of the Korean "police action," the new Federal tax burden against Southern California breadwinners amounts to $700,221,795; the average wage and salary earner's share of the national debt now approaches $5,000, which is certainly a mortgage against our future standard of living; and the Southern California breadwinner each year must dig up more than $170 out of his income to support Federal jobholders, who are increasing in numbers.

Direct taxes take about $200 and hidden taxes about $700 from the Southern California earner.

Rest Vital In TB Treatment

One word every tuberculosis patient hears repeatedly is "rest." For complete rest—mental and physical—in a tuberculosis hospital is basic to the treatment of TB.

Sometimes, in addition to his bed rest, a patient may need extra help to supplement the healing forces of nature. This "outside help" may be in the form of drugs or even surgery.

Chest surgery falls into two general categories. One is known as resection, when part or all of the lung is removed, and the other, collapse therapy, when the lung is collapsed either temporarily or permanently.

Resection includes an operation called pneumonectomy, in which an entire lung is removed, and lobectomy, which is the removal of a lobe of the lung. Within recent years, with improvement of surgical techniques and the availability of new drugs, it is possible to remove smaller sections of lung.

Drugs given before the operation minimize the danger of the disease's spread until the infected area is safely removed. Known as segmental resection, this technique makes possible the preservation of healthy lung tissue and comparatively little impairment of lung function.

One simple type of collapse therapy is pneumothorax, a temporary collapse of the lung which results when air is inserted between the chest wall and the lung. Another form of temporary collapse is pneumoperitoneum, in which air is injected and contracts the lung with each breath. In both types of temporary collapse, healing is promoted by decreasing the size of the lung and lessening its motion.

Temporary paralysis of the phrenic nerve, which originates in the neck and controls the diaphragm, is frequently used with pneumoperitoneum.

Permanent collapse of the diseased area of a lung is secured by an operation called thoracoplasty. Ribs or sections of ribs over the injured area are removed and the soft rib covering falls in and collapses the diseased section. New ribs grow back in such a way that the injured lung area is permanently collapsed.

Surgery, like drugs, is a substitute to bed rest—never a substitute for it. But modern surgical techniques, which are constantly being improved, have been directly responsible for saving the lives of many tuberculosis patients.

This column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by the San Diego County Tuberculosis and Health Association in connection with the Lemon Grove Review.

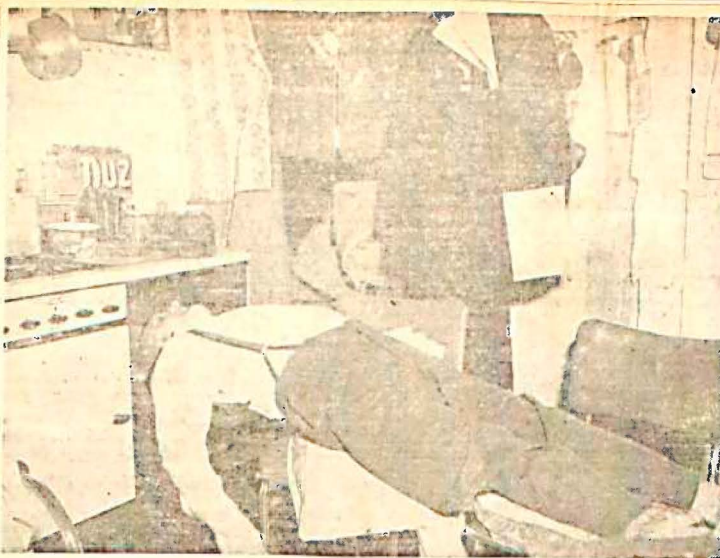

Helix High Brings "Dollar The Dummy"

Helix band and orchestra members will bring "Dollar The Dummy" to Lemon Grove on Saturday, April 5, starting at 10 a.m. They won't be hard to find; you'll hear the music.

In an effort to erase the debt of $410 of their uniforms, about a dozen young musicians, calling themselves the "pep band," spent a day with their "Dummy" at Vista La Mesa. Citizens contributed $56. Last week, in La Mesa, they collected $202.00, making a total to date of $258.

About 20 members of the band still need uniforms. $152 will make up the remaining deficit. Give to "Dollar the Dummy" this week! Remember, Lemon Grove students attend Helix H.

Lemon Grove Stores open Friday evenings till 9.

OPERATION SUICIDE... Herman Schafer, who ended his life in his New York apartment, did so after infinite planning. After drawing up his will, he wrote a farewell note, attaching it to sleeves of suit designated as "burial suit." To keep from injuring someone else, he disconnected all electrical appliances and sealed doors and windows before turning on the gas.

"I REMEMBER"
BY THE OLD TIMERS

From William E. Thompson, Stevens, S.D.: I remember attending a country school three miles from my farm home in Ireland. Most of the way there and return I was carried "pick-a-back" by older boys and girls. We used brown swards of soft stone from a quarry as pencils to write on slates.

From Mrs. Will Massey, Somerset, Ky.: My mother, after drying apples, would knit about 150 pairs of wool socks and take them to the city. Father and mother would drive a wagon drawn by oxen, the load of apples and socks would bring them two or three hundred dollars. They would bring home a barrel of sugar, keg of coffee and enough other staples to last the winter, and enough material to make the boys suits and girls' clothes for the winter. That's the way we used to live back in good old Republican days.

From Carl Rice, Big Cabin, Okla.: I remember when Hidalgo, Ill. was called Mudsuck. Aunt Kate Briggs ran the post office. Mr. Heath ran the store, and Bill Lida ran a taxi with his favorite horse. When the first telephone was installed, Uncle Sam Weaver saw the boys working on the line and told them you couldn't talk through that wire because it wasn't hollow.

From Amos Harris, Eufaula, Okla.: I remember when I saw my first sawmill. It was pulled by a yoke of oxen which went around a gin pole while the long heavy rip saw sawed up and down. Logs were hauled by two-wheeled ox carts with wheels seven feet high. One end of the log was swung under the axle and the other end was let drag.

Camp Fire Girls Plan Candy Sale

Two thousand Camp Fire girls are knocking on doors in a month-long canvass of the San Diego area for their first annual candy sale.

Forrest Raymond, chairman of the drive, announced. Proceeds of the sale which are hoped to supply a fund of $10,000 will go, Raymond said, toward maintenance and improvement of their summer camp "Wohahi" in the Cuyamaca mountains and their day camp in San Diego. To reach their objective the girls must sell 40,000 pounds of candy. In previous years the girls have raised money by selling doughnuts.

The Camp Fire girls' candy is put up in one-pound cartons decorated with red and white stripes and the Camp Fire emblem. It comes in two flavors, mint and peanut butter, and sells for 75 cents a unit.

SHE is the noose where them bodkins is a-goin' to launch a campaign addle-life to float round Mother Uth like another noose in the Amerikyun people an spy on the Bush-yan's devilment and make him pick up a trick or two. Sam fellow from Washington will sit up thar with a spy glass and hold down to us iffen them Redd at their dandruff up.

That's fine, for iffen that's emmying needs watchin', it's a bunch we red heads in caboots. Why we let em congregate over thar in Rusky-yan beats me. They already many-layared a ara car-ets and hung it cross the road for spite.

But the dad-blasted thing about that sky platform is the fact them Washington burycrats kin use it to spy on us desert folks too. They claim you kin see about everywhar with it—even look at Per Beaver and Nigh Beaver at wunst. Suppose one uv them revenuers is up thar just chawin the fat with the spy glass axel, and the spy glass blow fell, "Take a peek, jest for fan," and the revenuer ketches sight of poor Fluke MacLure over a the hollow runnin off another hatch uv mash. It'll git so a ord'ary citizen can do nuthin pryvat npt on a cloudy day.

The sky float won't have no real gravity, but them scientists is a-goin to put in artifical gravity. Iffen they kin make it cheaper, they'll put it in on urth too. All I kin say is when a fellow needs gravity, he don't want to aekpe no cheap substytout that's apt to work wrong—I roll out uv bed sumtimes, but alius hit the floor and ain't got no hanlierin to hit the ceilin, cause it's further, I hope p-e-pul write the gavymint to be pretty strict about lettin em make artifical gravity.

Peep up on that contraph, peep will have to wear pressurized suits. That means you'll have ter carry yore own air in yore duds. Sum peep alius got a air about em, but they don't keep it all in their duds. Rancid Reilly, the garbage collector, wouldn't live on that contraph, cause he wouldn't git in no pressurized suit with himself. That suit I bought at the Bargain Store is pressurized in places since it drew up.

Capitol and County News Letter

By RALPH R. CLOYED
Assemblyman

The California state legislature finally got down to some hard work after two weeks with long weekends of adjourning on Thursday and not returning until Monday, except for the members of the Ways and Means Committee who were still pouring over the budget and even holding committee meetings on Saturday. While the other members took advantage of the long weekends to go home and build some political fences, the legislative process finally began to pour bills on to the floor. Bills have been passed regarding the joint tenancy law. Another measure assures a state loan of $55,000,000 to the state department of veterans affairs to finance farm and home purchases for California veterans.

The Assembly passed a tax reduction bill and sent it to the senate, and also legislation which handed out stiffer sentences to sex criminals.

The Assembly Ways and Means Committee has approved the budget and sent it to the floor of the senate. The Senate Finance Committee has not completed its action on the budget.

Even with the busy days in the legislature members found time for a lot of political yak yak brought about by the withdrawal of President Truman from the California primaries and the upset caused by Eisenhower in the Minnesota election. This was the usual topic of discussion at the breakfast table or sitting in the hotel lobby's overstuffed chairs.

Republicans argue that it really matters little whether Eisenhower, Taft, or a dusky horse, maybe like Warren, is nominated—the Republicans will win. If you know them privately, they are not so sure. Republicans seem to think the man they have to whip in November is Truman.

The Assembly Rules Committee blocked a resolution by vote of 4 to 3, asking the federal government to stop any business in competition with private enterprise.

The Assembly Ways and Means Committee deleted from the budget an $85,000,000 appropriation for the control of pullorum disease in poultry. The Senate concurred in the Assembly action.

The tax bill sent to the Senate by the Assembly faces strong opposition. The bill would lower the sales tax from three to two and one-half percent. Increase exemption on personal income tax by $1,000 and cut bank and corporation tax by 15 percent.

The proposal requiring 50 percent approval after long debate on the roll call with 56 ayes and 20 noes. House passage came after sponsors of the measure succeeded in beating off administration amendments to modify the program.

But the one year tax relief program faces a tough fight in the Senate. Beyond that, Governor Warren is strongly opposed to the measure.

All members of the Assembly from San Diego County voted for the tax reduction.

There is a proposal to reduce the planning fund for the Feather River Project from $200,000 to $400,000 and uses that the savings be used for a study of the Santa Margarita River Basin in San Diego County. The Feather River Project contemplates the transfer of water from a dam near Oroville through a system of conduits and canals to San Diego County.

The Senate Finance Committee has gone on record withholding approval of a $38,000 item in the state budget to add ten persons to the narcotics squad. Members of the committee argue this is a federal problem, and the interstate enforcement is the responsibility of the local police. The plan calls for a branch office of narcotic agents in San Diego. This possibly may develop into a partisan battle as some members consider it an attempt by Attorney General Brown to expand a political machine for himself with an eye to the Governor's seat.

Assemblyman Niehouse is author of a resolution congratulating Maureen McMahon for her feats on the tennis court and another resolution congratulating Florence Chadwick as the only woman to swim the channel in both directions. As Mrs. Niehouse has laudgments and is only able to speak in a whisper, the writer was requested to present the resolution to the Assembly.

Assembly joint resolution by C.M. Jones concerning the "Fallbrook Seizure Case" and urging the Attorney General of the United States to dismiss the suit at once, has been passed on the Assembly floor and sent to the Senate.

WHY WATER A LAWN?

By TIMOTHY G. TURNER
In Los Angeles Times

Restriction of water pumping rights in nine Southern California cities has been proposed to prevent salt-water intrusion into wells. This brings up a cause dear to my heart and grievous to some. I admit; namely the abolition of lawns in our fair city.

There is nothing more stupid than a lawn in this part of the world. Lawns originated around the manor houses of England, being called parks, and as the middle class grew in the 19th century these shrank to mere patches of grass in front of miniature mansions, whose halls, once the largest rooms in the buildings, had become places to keep umbrellas and rubbers.

We Americans carried on this snobbish and inappropriate idea, and even in California, where the traditions are Spanish, we stick to it with the stubbornness of a Missouri mule. I almost said politician. Water is scarce with us. In fact it is the very great problem of our future, and yet we waste more money on watering lawns than on any thing else. The economic waste is unbelievable.

This is not to mention the injury to the human spirit. The average householder draws the hose about, pushes the mower, sprinkles manure, digs for moles and collects snails when he should be better engaged. I know a chap—otherwise intelligent—who pays a man to do his lawn at an hourly rate more than this man gets in the profession of journalism, poor wretch.

We can have the beauties of nature without all this grass. The Spanish-Moorish idea, which we got via Mexico, is to have a walled garden in which there can be potted flowers, or maybe a small flower patch. As for the outside of the patio, this can be planted in all kinds of things that take less water than grass, or it can be set out in rock gardens with succulents, an idea nicely developed in El Paso and other Southwestern cities.

When I say lawns I include those vast expanses of grass at country clubs for the use of those who engage in that so-called game, golf. I can think of no greater reform than to abolish these golf links in the interest of water preservation. If that and the lawns could be abolished much of our water resources problem would be solved.

No doubt some will disagree with me—such is human nature—on what I say about golf. But it is my conviction that once the thing is done those old fuds who engage in this futile pastime will be glad to be relieved of its tedium.

SAVE WATER

Voters gave an overwhelming "yes" at the last election to all proposals designed to bring more water to the semi-arid, water-short San Diego area, but their job so far is only partly done. The Save Our Water Committee declared the other part of the job is to conserve water until the second barrel of the San Diego Aqueduct is completed, which will be around June of 1954.

The water now in storage has to be measured out carefully for more than two years, the committee reminded water users. If voluntary conservation does not continue, storage water would be used up long before additional water would be coming in to this parched community. The estimate is that in the absence of conservation, reservoirs would run dry about one year before the second barrel was completed.

There is no absolute pattern to dry and wet cycle years, but very frequently a long dry cycle includes one wet winter such as this one has been, committee studies showed. But whether next winter is to be dry or wet, with resultant runoff, no one knows; so the only prudent thing to do is to regard our present supply of storage water as the only reserve available until the second barrel is completed.

AVOCADO DISEASES

Avocado growers can now obtain a circular that describes avocado troubles, according to symptoms, and tells of their cause, damage and control. Entitled "About Avocado Diseases," this new University of California Agricultural Extension Service Circular is free to anyone by writing to the Farm Advisors Office, 4005 Rosecrans St., San Diego 10, Calif. Two other recent circulars are available: "How to Select an Avocado Orchard," intended for people contemplating getting into the avocado business and "One Way to Grow Avocado Nursery Trees" depicting step by step, with clear drawings, one method of propagating avocado trees.

Band Review Set

A special invitation to participate in the Fifth Annual Maytime Band Review Saturday, May 3, has been extended to the Lemon Grove School Band and Majorie Corps by Albert E. Clarke, vice mayor of National City.

The invitation was received by Paul Cheatham, director of the band with the hope that Lemon Grove would be represented at this outstanding salute to National Music Week.

Preliminary response indicates that more than 60 bands, musical organizations and supporting units will participate. The 1951 Review was viewed by an estimated 90,000 spectators and included 3,423 individual participants from 31 separate Southern California communities.

Lemon Grove School News

Vista La Mesa School

The student council of the Vista La Mesa School student body met last Friday at which time they voted to sponsor a picnic for those students who have been members of the citizenship club during the first three quarters of the school year. Tentative date yet is May 29. The question of students running in the corridors was discussed at length and it was recommended that the safety representatives take up this problem at the next regular meeting of that group.

Attending the meeting were Melvin Stover, president; Beverly Bryant, Paula Cain, John Lester, Bruce Burley, George Sherrod, Mercey Smith, Bradley Fisher, Beverly Lebb, Wanda Schamber, Morris Nunez, and John Conlee.

First grade pupils in Mrs. Burks' room at Vista La Mesa have developed a great interest in moths and butterflies since seeing a film on the subject.

With Easter near, art lessons for the youngsters have included making decorations of rabbits and brightly colored paper eggs.

In music class, using the tune, "Three Little Ducks," to music. Many of the pupils are learning to play the new tune. Everyone is busy practicing for an assembly program to be held soon at the school.

Students in the third grade under Mrs. Whaley's supervision have been studying those signs in nature which indicate that spring is here. Birds and wildflowers are getting special attention these days. On Monday of this week, the class enjoyed a movie, "Spring on the Farm," showing the baby animals blossoming trees, plowed fields, birds, butterflies, and flowers.

In Mrs. Berdel's kindergarten the children have been enjoying many Easter songs, stories, and games. The class welcomed a new pupil, Robert Hamill, this week, but miss two little friends, Sherry Gunn and Robert Jungman, who recently moved from the district.

San Miguel School

On Friday, March 28, the children in Mrs. Jensen's third grade class at San Miguel School presented an assembly program for the student body. Every child in the class participated in the folk dancing program, and Marcia Blasing entertained with songs.

During the past week the class has welcomed three new members, all girls, to the room. They are Judith Blanton, Terry Ann Bretz, and Robbie Jean Nicks.

The pupils in this room have begun a new history unit, a study of the Indians of the Southwest.

Golden Ave. School

The following members of the School Safety Patrol from the Golden Avenue School will be the guests of John Van Gilse at his Grove Theater this Saturday for the matinee picture: Ward McMaken, Jack Monette, Randall Nislett, Ellis Edenfield, Roger Slagell, Ronnie Tormendsen, Charles Henderson, Billy Thom, Rodney Stender, Joe Stone, Richard Beers, and Herby Thom. Betty Stevens and Sharon Fields, playground safeties, will also accompany the group.

Intermediate School

Boys in the seventh and eighth grade physical education classes are now receiving training in First Aid work during a twelve hour course directed by Coach Thomas Brown and Iyer Petersen. They will receive instruction in bandaging, water safety, and treatment of cuts, snake bite, sunstroke and heat prostration. Strong emphasis is being placed on prevention of the accident or injury. The girls' physical education classes will begin similar classes in First Aid later this month.

In the sixth grades, Mr. Allen's class are preparing pamphlets on the growing and processing of coffee in Latin American countries. The helpful booklets were sent to the pupils by the Pan-American Coffee Bureau.

Mrs. Holmquist's students are utilizing the wire recorder to aid them in improving their reading ability.

Boys and girls in Mr. Purves' room have made salt and flour maps of the South American nations. In science they are waiting for the tadpoles to develop into frogs. An interesting collection of cactus plants also adds interest to the science corner.

BED WETTING STOPPED

A New Scientific Discovery To Solve This Distressing Problem as Described in December Redbook Magazine

Until a child is two or three years old bed wetting is a normal practice. Beyond this age this habit is called by the medical term, Enuresis, and becomes a vexing problem that many parents find great difficulty in solving. Drugs are of no avail in the average case and punishment or scolding often makes the condition worse.

Many forms of treatment have been tried in the past with little or no success. Now a new approved method has been devised that is genuinely successful in ridding the child of this humiliating habit in three or four weeks.

This new treatment is really a conditioning of the child whereby he usually stops the bed-wetting habit all by himself. A dry child is a happy child. It was developed by a doctor and is endorsed and approved by physicians. No drugs or attachments are used. Full details of this new scientific discovery may be obtained by telephoning F-7255, or you may drop a post card to The Enurton Co., 722 Bank of America Bldg., San Diego, Calif. —Adv.

Farmers' Corner

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary,
California Agricultural Council

There is a constant pressure on our legislative bodies for extension of public welfare services. In evaluating these proposals, there are two considerations to which a great deal more thought should be given. The first is the determination of how far the granting of relief might go without harming individual initiative and morale. The second is the gauging of how much public funds ought to be spent for these purposes.

Some relief is provided, because it is the humane thing to do. Care for widows and orphans; for the emotionally, mentally, and physically handicapped; and for the victims of catastrophe is a duty divinely imposed upon us and accepted by all enlightened people. Once this was a personal family responsibility. Now, it is altogether too generally accepted that it is the state's responsibility. But in this shift, because there is an impersonal aspect about state-administered services and the individual citizen is not obliged to contribute funds directly out of his pocket, the careful, practical appraisal of the individual donor becomes lost. State Can't Manage All

It is obvious that the state cannot guarantee even minimum shelter, clothing, food, medical care, and leisure-time activity for all of its citizens. On the other hand, these same citizens, by their own energetic efforts, can secure these advantages for themselves. The key lies in human nature.

Regardless of what self-assured social planners may think, there is no genius living, nor is there likely to be, who could plan a system that would more quickly or effectively destroy incentive to produce.

No Two Are Alike

Some are industrious, some are frugal, some slothful, and spendthrift, some indolent, some neurotic, some unhappy, and some preoccupied with important matters or even with unimportant matters. Some will fight against adversity and some will give up at the first hint of trouble.

Each has a different need. No policy of uniform, open-handed public generosity will ever meet the need of each person requiring aid. Public welfare assistance must be administered to benefit individual morale, revive initiative and strengthen character, as well as take care of physical needs.

Even people requiring assistance must come to appreciate the meaning of Dean Alfange's statement:

"I refuse to barter incentive for a dime. I prefer the challenges of life to the guaranteed existence; the thrill of fulfillment to the stale rind of Eutopia. I will not trade freedom for beneficence nor my dignity for a handout."

Ink Tennis Blanks Mailed This Week

Entry blanks were in the mails this week for the parent of all local junior tennis events, the Ink Trophy Tennis Tournament which will be held for the 18th time starting April 5 at Morley Field courts in Balboa Park through the combined efforts of city and county public and private schools and the City Park and Recreation Department.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

WILSON HARDER

The late New York columnist, O. O. McIntyre often claimed "the biggest rubes in the world are found along Broadway". Today he would include Washington bureau.

The Defense Production Administration is staffed thickly with Broadway "rubes". The recent DPA announcement on the newsprint situation indicates how little national knowledge most big bureaucrats possess.

DPA Bulletin No. 170 reports five big newsprint firms have received certificates for rapid amortization of building costs for new production facilities.

But in the next sentence, the report says nothing will happen in the near future, because no priorities are planned at this time for construction of newsprint plants. DPA uses a large quantity of scarce newsprint to announce nothing will be done.

Washington observers point to this "ring-around-the-rosy" action by DPA as another example how bureaucrats are led around by the nose when the interests of small business are concerned.

The U. S. newsprint supply is closely controlled by a small group, and to meet the shortages, this group has continuously raised prices threatening the existence of weekly newspapers.

But many things have thrown a scare into the firms controlling newsprint supply. One is that the Senate Small Business Committee, headed by Sen. John Sparkman, Ala., is investigating.

Sen. Lister Hill, also of Alabama, announces a bill to prohibit National Association of Independent Business.

side means by which concerns can produce newsprint as necessary to protect and preserve the last guardians of the American free press... the independent weekly newspaper.

Of course, those who control the newsprint supply do not want independent competition springing up, so the Defense Production Administration took action, to block any constructive action.

It is not presumed that anyone in DPA will ever be found to have received deep freezers or milk cans because of this action. But the very language of the DPA report on the subject shows that biggest "rubes" in the world are bureaucrats.

The Senate Small Business Committee has found that the nation's 5000 weekly newspapers use between 4 and 5% of the newsprint supply while the government alone uses 7%.

But DPA reports as follows: "There is a growing number of weekly newspapers in the United States coming for available newsprint. This group, consists mostly of religious, labor and fraternal publications, and consumes about three per cent."

Thus, officials of the DPA went on record as not knowing what makes the nation run.

Briefly, and airily they dismiss the importance of the 9000 American weekly newspapers of general circulation that reach more than 15,000,000 homes, and are read by more than a third of the entire national population.

It is easy to see how monopoly can pull the wool over eyes of bureaucrats who are stupid as these.

Perhaps their stupidity makes these officials think the newsprint being given to Tito's Yugoslavia is being used for a free press.

News from Republican Women's Club

Bertrand L. Compere, in a recent address to the Republican Women's Club of National City, compared the "Human Rights Covenant" of the United Nations with our own "Bill of Rights" as guaranteed by our Constitution and emphasized the need for each man and woman to accept his individual responsibility today.

Many people are unaware of the present threat to the survival of our own nation through the wording of the covenant on human rights. Whether this wording is intentional or otherwise, the end result will be the end of democracy for us.

Examples of this danger, Mr. Compere explained as follows: In our guarantee of individual rights, any one of us can protect himself or any member of his family from an intruder or attacker, even if in the process he should have to use force sufficient to kill the person threatening him or his family. This we term justifiable homicide.

The Human Rights Article III proclaims the right to defend one's self, omitting the privilege of defending his family. According to the interpretation of this article, if a man should protect his daughter from attack, killing the attacker, he would be charged with murder.

Article IV carefully omits the right to own property.

Article V eliminates slavery but allows the government to call in to service any person to perform "Civil Operations" in a case of emergency. (The government could call any kind of service necessary in the name of emergency, and could maintain a constant state of emergency — and there you have slave labor!)

Mr. Compere said he realized that some persons would call him an alarmist and say, "It can't happen here." To prove how wrong these people are he cited an incident which happened last June here in the United States. A meeting for anti-communists was scheduled. Communists gathered to picket the meeting and threatened to riot. Were the communists arrested for disturbing the peace? No, they were not. They were granted "Right of Assembly" and interfering with the Constitution. They were not! The anti-communist group was forced to call off their meeting and were charged with inciting a riot!

Article VII allows freedom of religion "except as limited by law". Article XVIII states that nothing in this covenant gives the right to curb, limit or change any part of the "Human Rights Covenant".

Soviet Russia has already signed this treaty, and if our Senate should ratify it we cannot change it without the consent of every nation which has signed, including Soviet Russia! Mr. Compere urges that every citizen, in order to preserve his freedom, and his very life, should write his own and other senators not to ratify this covenant.

EASY DOES IT
BY HELEN HALE

DO YOUR CLEANING easily and in comfort if you want to avoid accidents as well as muscle strain. A dress that's comfortable, or a pair of slacks and shirt are a good outfit for cleaning, especially when you can move freely, with shoulder room. Long housecoats are out, for you might slip on them.

Take time out to get a stepladder when you're cleaning windows or shelves. Instead of using a rickety chair. When you're lifting or carrying, plant the feet firmly on the floor and bend the knees to do any picking up. Straighten the knees gradually to prevent lifting entirely with the back.

When you're removing magazines, papers and other items, do carry a basket so that one trip will save several. Use a basket, also, for cleaning supplies.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK
Peaches in Orange Sauce
(Serves 6-8)

- 1 No. 2 1/2 can peach halves or slices
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- Dash of salt
- 1 cup orange juice
- 3 whole cloves
- 3 whole allspice

Drain peaches; reserve juice and measure 1/2 cup. Combine sugar, cornstarch and salt in saucepan. Stir in 1/4 cup peach juice and orange juice. Add spices. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Add peaches and simmer 5 minutes. Cool. Serve with plain or whipped cream, or use as a pudding sauce.

Small wagons are ideal for carrying out many items such as several waste baskets. In this way you can make one wagon trip to save several others, and also avoid lifting.

Plan your work so that something can be started, while you do other tasks. For example, let the shower curtain soak in the bath tub while you clean the medicine chest, bowl or change towels.

Another example for cleaning routine is to strip your bed and let it air while you wash woodwork, dust blinds or pick up the room and closet. After this is done, finish the bed.

SMALL DEFENSE PLANTS ADMINISTRATION OPENS CALIFORNIA OFFICE

A regional office of the Small Defense Plants Administration has been established in San Francisco and is now open for business. It was announced today by Joseph V. Ragusa, Regional SDPA Representative.

The office is located in Room 1043 Flood Bldg., 870 Market St., San Francisco 2, and will assist in carrying out the plans, policies and activities of SDPA with small-business firms in California, Arizona and Nevada.

Principal function of the agency's regional office, Ragusa said, is to provide "one-stop" service to small firms needing assistance in solving problems arising from the mobilization program.

Small Defense Plants Administration's three basic operating areas are in the field of: (1) loans and credit assistance; (2) contract procurement; and (3) materials assistance.

Vets Eligible For Medical Assistant Positions With State

Medical Technical Assistants are needed by the Department of Corrections to fill vacancies at several California state institutions, the State Personnel Board announced today.

A civil service examination will be held May 24 to fill these positions, and applications may be filed until May 3. California residence is not required.

Veterans who served in the Medical Departments of the Army, Navy, Coast Guard, or Merchant Service, and who held the grade of Master Sergeant or Chief Pharmacist's Mate, can apply to take the examination.

The beginning salary is $281 a month. Employees receive a 5 per cent increase after 6 months' satisfactory service and annual raises thereafter to a maximum of $341.

Shearer Gets 34 Sponsors

William K. Shearer, candidate for State Assemblyman in the new 77th District, which includes Lemon Grove, has announced that 34 prominent citizens of the community have formed a committee in behalf of his candidacy in the Lemon Grove area. "Lemon Grove is a very important part of my district," Shearer commented. "I am overwhelmed by the fine response of the community leaders in rallying to the cause of good government for which we are all fighting." Mr. Shearer said that a chairman will be appointed from among the committee members within the next week.

Members of the Lemon Grove Shearer for Assembly Campaign Committee include: Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Burke; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bunker; Mr. and Mrs. Edmund J. Dunn; Capt. William H. Galbraith; Mr. and Mrs. Merle Garber; Harry Griffin; C. Grant Hadley; Al Huebsch; Luther N. Hussey; Mrs. Edward L. Johnson; Daphne I. Meadows; Mrs. L. D. Newton; Thomas E. Parsons; James B. Pearce; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sanders; J. A. Snowgrass; Mr. and Mrs. Burton C. Snyder; Mrs. Amy N. Sonka; Denver and Emily B. Stowers; Mrs. Jeannette Vaughn; Mr. and Mrs. H. Irving Vernier; Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Westover; David W. Wilshire; M. D. Rev. Wyman Witt; and W. P. Zilker.

Spokesmen for the group stated that an active campaign for Bill Shearer will be carried on by the committee in the Lemon Grove area. "Many more of our people have indicated a desire to join the committee and meet Mr. Shearer," they said. "Bill is the only local candidate in the 77th District race. We believe that his careful study of State and local issues fully qualifies him to represent us in our State legislature. With the strong local support that has been forthcoming we feel sure that his campaign here will meet with success."

OVERCOME SUFFERING IN CHURCH LESSON

Deliverance from sin and its effects is available for all who turn from it to God, according to the Lesson-Sermon on the topic, "Everlasting Punishment" in all Christian Science churches.

Golden Text is from Romans (6:16): "Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?"

GROSSMONT TRUSTEE ELECTION SET

May 16 is date set for Grossmont High School District Trustee election. Candidates must file with the County Superintendent of Schools not later than April 16, 1952.

The terms of Trustees C. H. Foster and Rexford L. Hall expire on June 30 creating two vacancies on the board. Foster and Hall have filed for reelection.

C. H. Foster, present board chairman, is a resident of Lakeside. He has served on the Grossmont Board for 16 years. He is a dairyman and is prominent in the Farm Bureau and as a civic leader in Lakeside.

Rexford L. Hall resides in El Cajon where he is president of the W. D. Hall Company. He is active in the Masonic Lodge and El Cajon civic affairs. Mr. Hall has a daughter, Carole Jean, who is in the freshman class at Grossmont. His service on the Grossmont Board of Trustees began six years ago.

Unusual is the fact that both incumbents were preceded on the Grossmont Board of Trustees by their fathers. A. B. Foster served on the Grossmont Board from 1916 to 1926. He was succeeded by his son Ralph who served from 1926 to 1936. Clarence Foster succeeded his brother in 1936.

The late W. D. Hall served from 1921 to 1929. Candidates for these vacancies must file a declaration of candidacy with the office of Dr. Cecil Hardesty, County Superintendent of Schools by April 16. Forms are available from the County Superintendent of Schools, or from Grossmont High School District Office.

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

Adopt Cheerful Mental Attitude

IT WAS NEARLY 20 years ago that Charles E. Pridoux, Morristown, N.J., was told by his physician that he had contracted pulmonary tuberculosis. Worried? He most certainly was. His knowledge of the disease made him feel that his days were numbered and that the number was not high.

He went to Saranac Lake, N.Y., and was placed under the care of the late Dr. Lawson Brown, one of the world's authorities on this disease, who told him that he must completely relax and not worry. Not worry? Well, Dr. Brown didn't have pulmonary tuberculosis!

During the next few months his progress was very slow. But it was progress! That was something. One day he was handed a book written by Dr. Brown on how to recover from tuberculosis. This little volume did more for him than all the preaching in the world could have done, for he read it when he was alone and had the time to think about what he was reading. In the main the book brought out clearly that indulging in worry, hatred, or any other emotional disturbance lessened one's chance of recovery; that absence of worry and a cheerful mental attitude hastened recovery.

Well, worry had certainly not helped him; he made up his mind to try the opposite of worry.

For the next nine months he lay in bed with a bag containing 15 pounds of buckshot in his right lung. And he didn't allow himself to dwell on anything unpleasant. At the end of this period, he showed remarkable improvement.

Two years later he was back at work, and since that time he has not had an illness beyond the common cold. But what is of equal importance, he has carried a cheerful mental attitude into his work-a-day life. He has a job of great responsibility and hard work, but although it is such that he must carry some of the responsibility home with him at night, he doesn't worry about it, but looks upon his task pleasantly, and when he is finished puts it out of mind and goes to bed.

What a contrast to the way he had been living two years before!

Red Cross Asks Aid

Red Cross is lagging in San Diego County at 54.7 per cent of its goal. It is because people are waiting at home for solicitors to call? Could it be that housewives are flatly refusing a small contribution because their husbands gave through offices and plants? Or could it be that we, an important harbor and naval center, a sitting duck for enemy targets, don't realize how we might need the Red Cross?

This year the Red Cross is short

TILTON FOR FIRE COMMISSIONER

"When I recently filed my petition for a place on the ballot for Fire Commissioner of the Lemon Grove Fire Protection District it was with the thought in mind that I could be of some service in bringing our fire defenses more nearly on a par with our neighboring communities." This is the statement made by Paul H. Tilton, a very able candidate for Fire Commissioner at the election to be held on April 7th, 1952. However, let's review Mr. Tilton's qualifications for this important post.

Mr. Tilton came to Lemon Grove in 1945 after having served on the El Centro, California Fire Department for a period of seven (7) years. During this tenure of service he was able to gain much valuable experience in fireman's matters both from a physical and mechanical standpoint as well as the administrative end. This knowledge would stand in good stead in administering Fire Department affairs.

In 1948 Mr. Tilton opened his own welding business at 8179 Broadway in which he was eminently successful. In fact it became necessary for him to seek larger quarters. In August of 1951 he moved into his own building adjacent to the Fire Station on Central Avenue.

It is an established fact that Mr. Tilton's knowledge of fireman's matters, coupled with his proven business acumen makes him a very logical candidate for this important post. A vote for this candidate on April 7th will be an asset in finally putting our Fire Department on an efficient basis.
